SURVIVOR STORY

Annie,

I am eternally grateful for the compassion and support I received from you at Artemis during such a traumatic experience.

It gave me the courage to move forward, knowing that what happened to me was wrong. I'm so happy to now feel safer and like I can exist in my city with my abuser under a protection order. Thank you for all you do to help women. It is inspiring.

Kindly, Maria

When Maria reached out to update us on how she was doing, it was a fantastic reminder of our mission, and just how important it is for us to continue providing life-saving services to our community.

Fundraising Breakfast

Thursday • OCTOBER 12 • 2023

Sinclair Conference Center - Building 12

Presented by:  synchrony

You are invited to Artemis Center's Breaking the Cycle Fundraising Breakfast!

This benefit raises funds to provide vital direct services to domestic violence survivors and their children. We welcome all community members to learn more about how Artemis Center is working with other community organizations to move toward “breaking the cycle” of domestic violence.

TRAUMATIC BRAIN INJURY

Has your partner...

- Hit you in the face, neck or head?
- Tried to choke or strangle you?
- Shaken you severely?

Are you having physical problems, such as headaches, fatigue, dizziness, or changes in your vision?

Are you having trouble...

- Remembering things?
- Paying attention or focusing?
- Following conversations?

IF YOU SAID YES,
you might have a head injury.

Artemis Center's advocates are trained to assist victims who have suffered a traumatic brain injury.

BUILDING HOPE HOLIDAY PROGRAM

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Donate to one or more of our Artemis Center families and provide gifts and basic necessities that provide hope and comfort.

Donate gift cards that empower our clients to pick out gifts for their children or to do holiday grocery shopping.

Host a holiday drive within your business, organization, or place of worship. We can provide you with our wish list.

Contribute a monetary donation to support our Building Hope Holiday Program.

Let us know if you are interested in participating in this year's program:
